Amendment to the National Constitution to make the President Ineligible to a Second Term

The following is from the Bulletin's last letter from its Oregon correspondent

A telegraph of the 5th instant informs us that a joint resolution has been offered and referred to the Senate proposing to amend the National Constitution so as to make the President ineligible for a second term As Senator Wade is said to have observed this appears to be a favorable opportunity to make this change While in contemplation of law the President is eligible to a second term of office, he will in contemplation of the people, be thought to seek it and use the power and patronage of his place to attain it If they do not come to this conclusion instinctively and from the nature of things, they will be almost sure to from having the imputation dinned in their ears continually by a host of adverse aspirants and their swarms of interested followers Such parties, in their reckless desire to further their own political and pecuniary interests advance the imputation and give tongue to this cry as the most effectual means of preventing a re-election of the incumbent and thereby securing the first condition of their own success

In the meantime how fares it with the country and the incumbent? To deserve and obtain the plaudit of the people—well done, good and faithful servant—is or ought to be, one of the strongest and most praiseworthy motives to influence the President of the United States to do his duty to the public regardless of his own future advancement Yet, in the present state of things, such a consideration can have but little room to operate upon the mind of any ordinary man Do what he will and from whatever motive, the President is sure to hear the response from the brazen throats of a multitude of outs, and many jealous and discontented ins "You are playing for another term in the White House!"

Presidents like other people will in the end accept the conclusion of the proverb—They that have the name deserve the game—and act accordingly In this way and by these means then is almost forced upon the President the selfish policy of conducting his administration with a view to a continuance in office rather than the good of the country No other object or hope is left him unless he is contented with the approval of his conscience, and the chance of a favorable verdict in the future from the Muse of History Such people there are in the world and it is well for the world that it is so, but they are not public favorites nor at all likely to have their constancy tried in any such position In the meantime, the country and its best interests are made a foot ball, to be kicked hither and thither by the leaders of political factions in their strife to secure the Presidential prize at the next election Supposing the President to have been elected by two thirds of the popular vote (and this is a very favorable supposition,) he goes into office with one third of the country avowedly opposed to him, and willing by almost any means in its power to make his administration a failure, and thereby prevent his re-election But this is not all Within the first year of his administration, by reason of the discontent inevitably consequent upon the distribution of the public patronage and the selection of his official advisers and personal associates, at least one half of his own party desire a change and soon constitute an inside, but formidable opposition To these as well as the outside opposition, the success of the administration is looked upon as a personal misfortune, because it may result in continuing it in power, by the re-election of the President By the opening of the second Congress of the administration, the President is generally in a minority of one-third The opposition, inside and outside of the party in power, constitutes two thirds of the country and Congress Apart from their own political fortunes, this double headed opposition may desire to see the affairs of the country well managed and the administration successful But as they see the situation such a result would make the re-election of the President probable, and this would be a complete bar to the fruition of their hopes and aspirations

In their eager desire to prevent this, they forget their country and bend all their energies and talents to foil and embarrass the Administration and thereby make it, either really or apparently a failure In this way every Administration since the days of Jackson, has been practically reduced to a minority for the last two thirds of its term The Administration of Mr Lincoln may have been, to some extent, an exception to this rule. But the country was then in a perilous condition Upon a close analysis of the causes which operated to keep the community up to the support of his Administration, I think it will be found that the armies of the Southern Confederacy were the most prominent and effective In most instances, the inside opposition is limited and controlled by the selfish consideration that it will not do to destroy the party while crippling the Administration This would be to win

> A fruitless crown
> And put a barren sceptre in our gripe,
> Thence to be wrenched with an unlineal hand,
> No son of the party succeeding.

Yet in one memorable instance prudential consideration of this kind were insufficient to restrain the passions and ambition of the discontented The inside opposition under the lead of a rival aspirant for the Presidency—Stephen A Douglas —overthrew the Administration of Buchanan, and thereby destroyed the Democratic party and precipitated the country into a civil war It is true that, independent of this cause, both these events might have come to pass sooner or later Yet to mere human ken it appears probable that this party and personal strife for the succession was the immediate cause of both these apparent calamities, and that without it they might have been deferred for a quarter of a century or even overcome or outgrown without war or violence

In the nature of things the demise of the Democratic party was only a question of time Parties are mortal as are persons which compose them Its tenure of life was then in the prestige of the past and the force and authority of habit and tradition It had already outlived its origin and animus, and gradually passing over from the vantage ground of so called progress and assault, it rested on the defensive and had become conservative and respectable In popular governments this is the last age of party life In time of peace and prosperity by skillful and assiduous nursing together with a judicious distribution of pap this age may be prolonged indefinitely But on the first shock of serious trouble or commotion it loses breath and gasps its last. At the memorable era of 1860 61, the elements of the civil war had long been brewing in the country and only awaited a favorable opportunity to break out into actual strife In a country so large as ours and containing so diversified incongruous and restless a population it is not unreasonable to expect that political controversies, turning upon personal right or the conflict between vital principles or prejudices or that questions involving the limits and extent of national power and social independence—the power of the majority and the right of the minority—must sometimes be settled by the final arbiter of human affairs—the sword Such is the way of the world and out of such causes came the wars of the Roses and the great rebellion in England, and the war of Independence and the great rebellion in America

To resume—These are some of the evils near and remote, actual and possible, that grow out of the re eligibility of the President The chances are that willingly or of necessity he will be a candidate for re-election Thus situated the temptation is great and manifold to induce any ordinary man to pervert his power and position from its legitimate purpose to that of becoming his own successor But even if he be not a candidate the opposition both inside and outside will not give him credit for such disinterestedness They will assume that he is a candidate, or what amounts to the same thing that if he is successful the people may re-elect him whether or not To avoid any such result as this from any cause the double headed opposition will seek to embarrass and break down the Administration at the expense of the best interests of the country Whoever wins, the country loses by the process By all means let us have the one term principle of rule engrafted upon the Constitution

FOR WHAT TERM SHOULD THE PRESIDENT BE ELECTED?

But this one term what should be its duration? At present it is four years with in theory the right of re election for any number of successive terms At the time four years was fixed as the duration of term there were 13 States with 3 000,000 of comparatively poor but equally conditioned people Now our territory is increased many fold, and by means of this modern invention called the Monroe doctrine may keep on increasing until we touch the waist of the Continent—the Isthmus of Panama. Our population has increased twelve fold in numbers, and our wealth beyond computation Relatively considered with reference to the magnitude of the interests involved ten years would not be a longer term in 1867 than four years was in 1789 A Presidency of four years only admits of a policy based upon hasty experiments and expedients There is not time to initiate and develop any public policy as the matter now stands There is no doubt but that in a moral social and economical point of view the frequency of Presidential elections is a curse to the country It is a seething cauldron, in which all the trash and froth comes to the surface—a carnival, during which there is an unlimited license for corruption of the people and grossness of every kind At each return of this important event thousands upon thousands of young men are drawn away from virtuous industrial pursuits, into this vortex of dissipation and excitement, never to return again Each election adds to their number—increasing the element which fills our poor houses, prisons and premature graves, and diminishing by so much the productive power of the country. The time between the elections is so short that no time is left for the country to cool off and become sober A Presidential election is no sooner terminated than parties commence training for the next All our municipal and local elections, which have no necessary connection with the Presidency, are laid hold of by the trainers and grooms of parties, and conducted as trials of speed and strength for the great race for the White House A Presidential term for 10 years, tempered by the present power of impeachment, would go far towards remedying these evils In addition it would give stability and permanency to the laws and policy of the country at home and abroad, and the administration of the laws and civil business of the country When the Constitution was first formed Jefferson said the Presidency was a mistake, that it had been better to have made the term seven years, and not allow the President to be re-elected Seven years then would be as long as twenty now No country that has reached the wealth size and population of ours, can stand the strain of a revolution every four years—and that is what a Presidential election now amounts to If it is not remedied in time, in a constitutional mode, it will be, sooner or later, by a coup de main.

Unfortunate Coalitions

The sturdier sort of Democrats unchecked by the reproofs which the time servers and purchasable ones of their party are forward to administer continue their onslaughts upon the President — the leader whom they but lately so much admired The Umatilla Press unmindful of the admonitions of its godfather of this city, and unawed by the reprehensory language which its former articles have called down on its head, renews the attack on the unfortunate ' tribune' in this wise

We oppose him because he does not act as a Democrat, does not act with the Democrats or with them, and was not elected by them Not that we wish to persecute or "stab under the fifth rib," but believing that to be ' forewarned is to be forearmed," we unhesitatingly pronounce against a continuance in the support of the President, and point out those acts which we believe no Democrat can endorse without compromising his principles and even his own conscience All must acknowledge that the Democracy have suffered by every coalition and by every concession of principle

We recollect two coalitions into which the Democracy entered, and by which they have suffered grievously One of these coalitions was formed with the Southern Confederacy, and came near wrecking the Democratic party. Scarcely had the Democratic party begun to extricate itself from the general ruin, when it formed another coalition by which it has suffered more terribly still. This last coalition was entered into with A Johnson, and so disastrous have been its consequences that the victimized party, believing it has been foully dealt with, is turning in its rage on its late ally and arraigning him as having caused the failure of the scheme The conservative ship had promise of smooth sailing and a successful voyage, but she had taken a Jonah on board who refused to quit her, and the consequence was that all were swallowed up together Yes, "the Democracy have suffered by coalitions", and so long as the memory of the last two coalitions to which it has been a party, remains, it may well be expected that it will be wary about forming any more "entangling alliances."

A Very Sick Man

The Mexicans are not likely to do much toward expelling the French and Austrians from their territory, until they put an end to strife among themselves. The Juarez and Ortega factions are contending with increased bitterness about the Presidency They are fighting each other with much more animosity than they fight the common enemy Juarez's Presidential term expired two years ago. Still, he has held on Since the expiration of his term, there has been no election The Mexican Constitution provides that in case an election for President is not held at the expiration of the Presidential term of four years, the supreme executive power shall vest in the Chief Justice. Ortega was appointed Chief Justice in 1862, and by virtue of the Constitution claims the Presidency of the Republic of Mexico Juarez refuses to recognize his claims on the ground that if he (Ortega) were to become President, he would continue to exercise the functions of the executive office for an indefinite period of time, because it is impossible, on account of the war, to hold an election. It is not easy to see why the same reasoning would not be conclusive against the continuance in office of Juarez himself. As the presence of a foreign enemy and the danger of subjugation by a foreign army is not sufficient to keep down these domestic factions, the condition of Mexico is indeed deplorable. There would seem to be little encouragement for the United States to undertake to settle the affairs of that country To deliver Mexico from foreign domination, and to settle the claims of those who are quarreling about the Presidency, would not be a job to be coveted. We might mind our own business at a much less cost of trouble.

In a late speech at Detroit Speaker Colfax said "At the opening of the last session the first important question submitted to Congress was upon the claims of rebels, who swarmed through the Capitol with fresh pardons in one pocket and long bills for damages suffered during the war, in the other. To those pardoned but unrepentant rebels we answered that not one cent of the nation's money should be appropriated to such uses, and passed a resolution forbidding the payment of such claims. They lit up the war. Let their losses be a perpetual warning against a repetition of the offense Of the Democratic members, all but six voted against the passage of this resolution." And yet these Copperheads who want the nation to reimburse rebels for their losses, talk about "Radical extravagance!"

"This Gentleman"—An Oregon Copperhead paper, speaking of John Morrissey, characterises him thus "This gentleman, lately elected to Congress," etc The following would be a truer characterization "This bully, rowdy, pugilist, gambler, debauchee and Democrat, who was lately elected to represent men of his own class in Congress, and who was arrested a couple of weeks ago for being concerned in a swindling transaction in New York City," etc It is so much honester to call men and things by their right names.

Idaho —The total liability of Idaho Territory on the 1st of December, 1866, was $87,957.08 The total valuation of real and personal property in the Territory is $4,158,157.88. The estimated receipts of the Territorial Treasury for the year 1867 are $27,600, estimated expenditures, $66,555 At this rate bankruptcy will soon ensue The decrease of the voting population from 1864 to 1866 was over 2,000. The present population of the Territory is estimated at 17,000.

The Republicans have achieved a most signal triumph in Milwaukee, Wisconsin, gaining 2,000 votes on that of two years ago, and reducing the Democratic majority from 2,500 to less than 400

Umatilla, Dalles and Portland

The following is from the Umatilla Press of the 28th ult

If straws are at all indicative of the direction from which the wind blows, we may believe that there is a quiet influence at work to make Umatilla a grand distributing point for all this upper Columbia river country Its situation, at the practical head of navigation—the remarkable facility with which the interior towns in every direction may be reached—its proximity to the Overland Mail route, has given to it advantages which it will be impossible for the postal agent to overlook There are but a few weeks in the year but what boats can, and do make regular trips to Umatilla, bringing all the mail quicker and more direct than it can possibly be brought by land The Omaha mail passes down the Columbia only twelve miles from us, traveling in the same direction and over a route whose services should be performed by steamboats, making its terminus at the Dalles. With equal propriety should the government establish a pony express from the Dalles to Portland, when there is a daily line of steamers performing the service We have in other places spoken of a proposed change in the proprietorship of the line of steamers now running up the Columbia, and have expressed the belief that it looked towards the resuscitation of trade in, and a rapid growth of, the town of Umatilla Most of the towns this side of Portland have chiefly confined themselves to exultations of the drooping prospects of the latter place, and have hardly given a thought to their own condition The Mountaineer is particularly jubilant, when a moment's consideration would have told it that the Dalles will be more of a by place than before In stead of remaining over night at the Dalles, greatly to the benefit of the hotels, (and the Umatilla House is a good one) the cars will be ready to start upon the arrival of the steamer from the lower river These delays in shipment and travel have been the cause of the present high prices in freight, which now that the entire merchandise sent from California to the Boise country will come by way of the Columbia, disembarking at this city, will be greatly reduced

The immediate effect of the decision of the United States Supreme Court, in the case of the Indiana conspirators has been to put an instant stop to the trying of civilians by military courts There were several of these trials in progress at the time the decision was announced, and President Johnson at once issued an order to the Secretary of War and General Grant calling their attention to the decision and requiring them to issue such directions to all commanders of departments as would put a stop at once to all such trials These orders have been issued in spite of the New York Herald's denial They are explicit and peremptory, and hereafter there will be no trials of civilians by military courts The case of Dr Watson of Virginia, is a good case in point Dr Watson had been acquitted after a trial in a civil court for killing a desperate negro, who had nearly killed the Doctor's wife After acquittal a military court was organized to try him in defiance of the decision of the Supreme Court. VETO MESSAGE.—The following is the message of the Mayor, vetoing the ordinance providing for side walks on Market Square and other public blocks

Gentlemen of the Common Council

I herewith return to you the annexed ordinance without approval. After personal examination ... I am of the opinion that there is no more necessity for a side walk being made on the west than the east, north or south side of Market Square, No. 132, nor ... at the present time in warranting the city ... the expense of constructing a side walk of the character described in the ordinance around the whole or any part of said Square Block No 172 is also reserved for market purposes located in the centre of the city And if you are of the opinion that any public property should be improved during the present fiscal year by laying side walks or otherwise improving I would respectfully submit that the expenditure be made at such place and in such manner as to secure the greatest use and accommodation to the public. Block 132 being at the extreme southern part of our city its improvement by laying a side walk on the west side of said block would not be much benefit or accommodation to the public and if any benefit or use whatever, it would only accrue to a small number that may prefer to walk on the east rather than the west side of Third street, opposite that particular square where a good and ample side walk is already constructed. Did not these objections exist I should not feel wholly willing to approve the ordinance for the further reasons that we are at the end of the present fiscal year and find the fund for the improvement of public property exhausted leaving no means appropriated for the payment of the proposed work Therefore the approval of the ordinance at the present time would be forestalling the revenue and virtually compelling the Committee on Ways and Means to provide for its payment in their estimates of expenses for the ensuing fiscal year But if you are of the opinion that this side walk ought to be laid I would farther submit that there is no immediate necessity for its being done and that it can be done cheaper and better at the termination of the rainy season It is true the sum required to make this proposed improvement may in itself be insignificant yet if this bill were approved it might be used as a precedent for a further and immediate improvement of like character, the expense of which may with much propriety be deferred until the greater wants and accommodations of the public call for the same being done and the city is better prepared to defray the expense thereof. Very respectfully yours

THOMAS J HOLMES Mayor

December 31st, 1866

Since writing the above I find that I am in error as to the condition of the fund appropriated for the improvement of streets in front of public property

D D, OR RADICAL HEAT AND RADICAL MOISTURE.—D D, in police court reports, means dead drunk. "Radical heat and radical moisture," as defined by Corporal Trim, have something of the same meaning, or rather radical heat has something to do with a man's becoming D D, and then the D D man is very apt to have much to do with radical moisture Corporal Trim was at the seige of Limerick under King William and in discoursing of that period in after years he described the camp of the loyal army as being a swamp ... cut through with drains and bogs The rains brought on floods too and the flux, and said Corporal Trim "there was no such thing, for a soldier to lie dry in his tent without cutting a ditch round it, to draw off the water

"And what conclusion dost thou draw Corporal Trim?" inquired the elder Shandy It will be remembered they were discoursing on "radical heat and radical moisture" as relates to health

"I infer, an' please your worship replied Trim "that radical moisture is nothing in the world but ditch water; and that radical heat of those who can go to the ... of it, is burnt brandy the radical heat and ... of a private man, an' please your Honor, is nothing but ditch-water—and a dram of Geneva and give us but enough of it [radical heat] with a pipe of tobacco, to give us spirits and drive away the vapors we know not what it is to fear death All this is preparatory and prefatory to mentioning the fact that Robert Blair was up before the Recorder yesterday for having imbibed too much radical heat and then lying down in the radical moisture of the street. Nothing appearing to prove whether the prisoner was or was not at the siege of Limerick, and it being his first experiment in this city with the two radicalisms mentioned, the prisoner was let off

COST OF THE CITY GOVERNMENT —According to the message of the Mayor, the assessed valuation of property in this city for 1866, was $4,200,000 Upon this was raised the sum of $400 000 taxes, $150,000 of which was raised for city purposes and for dredging the Willamette river bars. In following portions of the message the Mayor makes some very sensible suggestions as to the necessity of retrenching the city's expenditures, though he seems to overlook the fact that the greater part of the above sum has been paid for improvements that are so permanent as to obviate any probable necessity of recurrence If we take out of last year's taxes the sums expended on the river bars, building dredger, scows &c, and surveying, grading and paving the cost of sustaining the city government will appear considerably reduced and much under the probable figures for the present and succeeding years There is no likelihood that the taxpayers will be called upon this year to pay so large a sum as for the last year to supply all the several funds to meet the fullest wants of the city The practical retrenchment of the year will consist in the natural dropping off of the river and street improvements—the largest part of the expense of the late year When we no longer have these bills to pay, the cost of the city government will not be onerous We are in favor of all reasonable retrenchment, but it strikes us that the Mayor has directed his specific suggestions to the small items of the greater items of expense If the auger hole leaks are stopped, the gimlet holes will scarcely be noticed The Mayor wants a part of the police force discharged and the salaries of the others cut down In our humble opinion, the saving of $100 per month—the pay of a Deputy Marshal—will scarcely repay it for the loss of police service Considering the amount of work necessary to be done by our city officers, the salaries are now very ...

PRAYING FOR DIVORCE.—A petition was in circulation ... day in the upper portion of the city asking to have the corporate boundaries changed so as to leave a considerable portion of the upper Ward out of the city About one hundred names had been attached to it, as we were informed. The petitioners complain that they are taxed enormously to sustain the city government and to pay for street improvements without receiving any corresponding benefit They say that when they ask for anything, a deaf ear is turned them, and that the authorities seem to be unconscious of their existence except when money is wanted for the central and Northern portions of the city They object to remaining any longer a mere provincial appendage, with the only privilege of paying taxes. That is the argument of the South-enders There may be a fair offset in favor of the North-enders, for all we know to the contrary

LAMPS WANTED.—We have been requested by citizens in the upper part of the city to call attention of the Council to their desire that lamps shall be ordered at each cross street on Front If we are not mistaken a member of the Council recently stated that the gas mains are not laid further south than Madison street, and that the Gas Company would not be prepared to extend them before spring This fact undoubtedly accounts for an apparent neglect on the part of the Council, of the petitions of citizens living in the upper part of the city

The Mayor's Message

To the Honorable the Common Council of the City of Portland

GENTLEMEN —The time having arrived to fix the rate of tax to be collected on property assessed within the city I deem it a fitting occasion to direct your attention to some facts proper to be considered in the performance of that duty

That business of all kinds is languishing, that money is scarce and hard to obtain ... that ... and their ... quen ... unusually ... as to cause a general ... apprehension for the future prosperity of our city

TAXES AND ... EXPENDITURES

The various causes of this general depression of business and the serious alarm for the future I will not undertake to enumerate possibly one and the more serious can be ... in the ruinous amounts collected of our citizens in the way of taxes and assessments

The assessed value of property within the city is $4 200 000 It is also true that the assessed value approximates very closely to the real value of our taxable property The taxes levied and collected upon the property during the year just amounts to over $400 000 Of this amount there was collected for State county school and road purposes, over $30 000 by the United States $150 000 by the city including licenses and fines $159 000 Of the amount collected by the city $75 000 was for street improvements and $54 000 for general and special purposes Of this sum over $15 000 was appropriated to the payment of the salaries and fees of the officers of the city A very large sum to pay for the administration of the government of a city of little if any more than 6 000 inhabitants In fact it costs as much, within four or five thousand dollars to administer our city government as it costs to administer our State government

Is this a necessary expense? or is it a ruinous expense, unnecessarily imposed upon the tax payers of our city? Is there no room for retrenchment? Must this ruinous expense remain fixed upon our city to eat up its substance and retard its growth

SURVEYOR

Let me direct your attention to a few of the items of this extravagant and unnecessary expenditure of money The City Surveyor is allowed by ordinance ten dollars per day for each day's service, and three dollars per day for his assistants, but the pay of assistants is not to exceed $600 in one year The expenses for this department for the year just passed are $3 700, thus it appears that the Surveyor has during the year past lost only three days, Sundays excepted while his assistants come up to the full measure of their allowance Until within two or three years past the city only paid from $200 to $300 per annum for the services of a surveyor, except in one instance when a general order was made for the survey of the whole city the cost of which was $600

I would recommend that the City Surveyor be paid such reasonable sum per day for his services as they are worth, not to exceed in the aggregate for the year the sum of one thousand dollars

CITY PRISONERS

The expense of the city prisoners for board cost the sum of nine hundred and fifty dollars This sum was paid to the Marshal, and the amount would board three prisoners during the whole year at the rate of six dollars per week each Board can be obtained at the hotels for a less sum than six dollars per week for each person, so that it would be less expense to the city to board its prisoners at some hotel than in the City Prison

I would recommend that the contract for the boarding of the city prisoners be let to the lowest responsible bidder, and also that the labor of prisoners convicted of offences be made available to the city in some suitable manner

CITY ATTORNEY

The salary of the City Attorney is one thousand dollars Until within two or three years past the city has paid from three to five hundred dollars for the services of competent attorneys The business of the city is limited I see no good reason why the salary of this officer may not be reduced to such reasonable sum as will sufficiently compensate him for the services rendered to the city

POLICE

The Recorder's Court and offices connected therewith, entail on the city an expense of over six thousand dollars This I deem extravagant, and should, I think, be brought within reasonable bounds by cutting off all useless leakages I invite your immediate and serious attention to this extravagant and useless expense to the city and I do not doubt that you will find this item of expense can be greatly reduced without injustice to any one, and with much benefit to the city The amount paid the Marshal for the collection of delinquent taxes and assessments, and attendance upon the council is not included One item of the six thousand dollars is the sum of twenty four hundred dollars, or one hundred dollars per month each paid to two deputy Marshals I particularly call your attention to the propriety of diminishing this expense by discharging one of the deputies, and a reduction of the salary of the remaining one to a reasonable sum per month The amounts received by Marshal and Recorder can only be limited by paying to each a stated salary for his services

DREDGER

A sum of money exceeding $30,000 during the past year, has been raised for the improvement of the navigation of the Willamette river, viz

By loan ... $20 000
By special tax ... 10 000

The most, if not quite the whole of this sum has been expended, with what benefit I am unable to say, except from public rumor. From the best attainable information the money does not seem to have been expended in the most judicious manner This is likely to continue a heavy recurring expense to the city year by year, if the work is persisted in Whether it continues or not, is for you to determine If the work is to be continued, the expense should in my judgment, be met by a further law, and by the enforcement of Article 15, Sec 38, of the Charter for levying harbor dues, &c., but if the work is a permanent benefit to the city, all who will reap the benefit should be held to contribute to the expense I would also recommend that a Tow Boat for the Dredger be purchased, as over $3,000 has already been expended for towage

SPECIAL TAX FOR DREDGER

An attempt to levy a special tax for the purpose of continuing this improvement may, and will, in all probability, lead to litigation, as the right of the city to raise money by a direct tax to be expended on improvements without the city limits, and disconnected with the city purposes, may be questioned, and, in fact, is now being discussed among the tax payers

PLAZA AND MARKET SQUARE

If during the coming year further expenditures are contemplated upon the Plaza or Market Squares, I would recommend that such contemplated expenditures be devoted to, and limited (for the ensuing year) to perfecting the title to Market Square, known as Block 172

STREETS

The provisions of your ordinances for the improvement of streets, under our present Charter are needlessly severe and operate harshly upon those in moderate circumstances, who are compelled to improve the streets adjacent to their property Indeed, the provisions of our Charter upon this subject appears to have been framed solely with a view to the benefit of the wealthy, to enable them to swallow up the little property that might be owned by their less fortunate and poorer neighbors The course heretofore pursued in making street improvements has been for the Council to estimate the cost of the work to be done, and in some instances before the work is begun, the owner of the property adjacent to the streets improved, is required to pay into the City Treasurer the full amount assessed against his property—a much larger sum in many cases than the improvement actually costs or in default of such payment the property is sold The cost and expenses of sale, together with twenty five (25) per cent, is added to the amount for which the property is sold The wealthy can pay the poor may, or may not be able to pay within the short time limited

If the owner is unable to pay the full amount assessed against his property for the proposed improvement, although the assessment may largely exceed the actual cost of the work, the whole property against which the assessment is made is sold The property may sell for even a much larger sum than that which is assessed upon it but the owner can only redeem upon the payment of all costs and taxes, together with the amount for which the property sold with ten per cent per annum interest thereon and a penalty of twenty five per cent upon the top of all these sums Thus a person owning a lot assessed for $500 when the actual cost of the improvement is only $250 may have his lot sold for $2 000 To redeem he must pay the two thousand dollars with the ten per cent per annum added with all costs of sale upon the top of this the penalty of twenty five per cent upon the two thousand dollars. Making the following payments for work the actual costs of which would have been only $250, viz

The amount sold for ...	$2 000
Interest 10 per cent	200
Cost of sale and fees	100
Twenty five per cent penalty	500
Total amount necessary to redeem	$2,800

Thus he is compelled to pay $800 for an improvement the actual cost of which would not exceed $250 The sum of eight hundred dollars for no fault of his, but only from his inability to pay the sum of $250, before the work is begun, and in the short time limited for the payment to be made

These provisions carry upon their face a great hardship It is true the charter authorizes this kind of proceeding in the premises but I hope the provisions of the charter in this respect may be substantially changed with ... imposing such ... useless expense ... hard ... on the property holders for the ... at present pursued rather retards than ... a general improvement of our streets and ... consideration that ... future the amount of the contract for the full completion of the work ... collected ... all not ... relieve parties from paying ... unnecessarily and uselessly, but will ... the City Auditor and Treasurer from a vast deal of useless labor

And while upon the subject of streets I would further recommend provided the charter as lately amended will permit that the expense of all future sewerage and repairs of streets be paid by the owners of the property adjacent thereto and benefited thereby This recommendation is made for reasons numerous and ... applicable to need recapitulation and give it as my ... that all the arguments and reasons adduced in favor of the owners of property paying for the original improvement of streets apply with equal force in regard to street repairs and the construction of sewers

If this recommendation be adopted it will not only enable you to reduce the general tax both for the present and future but will remove what otherwise may become a great source of trouble and expense to the city, and dissatisfaction to all tax payers

CROSS STREETS

The streets terminating on the Willamette river should be made to yield some revenue to the city for wharfing purposes At this time most of them are used by individuals for their own benefit without profit to the city, and to the exclusion of the public, without paying rent for or taxes upon the property thus appropriated to private purposes If they are put in property they should be open to public use if used by individuals to the exclusion of the public they should be made to yield some revenue thus lessening the taxes upon the public, and doing no injustice to those by whom they are occupied and used

CHINESE AND BAWDY HOUSES

The large and still increasing number of Chinese located in the heart of the city and upon the most public thoroughfares, have become a nuisance Under our city charter you have the right and power to prevent and remove nuisances (See 38 subdivision 7 of charter) If the exercise of this power would be in conflict with the laws of the United States I invite your attention to the consideration of some means of removing or restraining the evil These remarks may apply to other houses, that may to some extent be placed in the same class All of these are sources of expense in the maintainance of police regulations and the good order of the city Some means should be devised of imposing these constantly recurring expenses in some manner upon this class of persons If summary and adequate punishment cannot be inflicted upon them and the good order of the city maintained it is much to be regretted

PRINTING

During the past year the sum of some seven hundred dollars was paid by the city for printing I would recommend that for this year the city printing and advertising be let to the lowest responsible bidder and generally that all contracts for labor or materials for the use of the city exceeding the sum of $100, be also let to the lowest responsible bidder upon due notice by publication of the time of letting

GAS AND WATER

The cost of lighting the city with gas during the past year was something over $3,000 In November, 1865 a contract was entered into for lighting streets for one year, that time expired on the 12th day of November last During the same time the city paid the water company the sum of $600 for water for public purposes The gas and water companies have the use of our streets for laying their gas and water pipes and claim the right to remove any improvement or pavement made by the city or individuals for the purpose of laying or repairing, the pipes Under all these circumstances these companies appear to impose a heavy burden on the city for gas and water for public uses, and a large reduction should be insisted upon before another contract is entered into with them for gas and water for public uses

FIRE DEPARTMENT

Whilst I would accord all honor and the praise that is their just due to our Fire Department, I would at the same time recommend that no indebtedness, cost or expense be incurred by the Fire Department, or any company thereof, which the city shall be called on to pay, unless the same shall have been previously authorized by the Common Council

REVISION OF SALARIES

I would recommend the revision or reduction of the salaries and fees of all officers of the city, carefully defining them and bringing them within such reasonable limits as may benefit the city, and at the same time not injure the officers

COMPARISON OF TAXES

Since the organization of our city, until within two or three years past, no greater tax than five mills on the dollar, (with one or two exceptions) was ever levied in any one year, and very often less than five mills During the two years past, the taxes alone have been, for the year past, twelve mills and for the year prior to that, fifteen mills on the dollar

These excessive taxes did not include the large amount assessed and collected for the improvement of streets By proper economy the amount of tax may be greatly reduced without injury to the city and with great relief to the tax payers Special taxes are of doubtful expediency, and should not be resorted to except in special and extreme cases,

LIBERAL LEGISLATION AND ECONOMY

In conclusion allow me to impress upon you the necessity of liberal legislation, and the most rigid economy in levying and expending the public money It is necessary to retain our present population and encourage future emigration, and for the full development of industry and the investment of capital in our city

To the Auditor and Clerk and City Treasurer I am under great obligation for their kindness and assistance in furnishing the items of revenue and expense of the city and I return many thanks to those correct and efficient officers for the information and assistance rendered me

Very respectfully submitted,

A SEA MONSTER.—The following description of a queer fish is given by Victor Hugo in his "Toilers of the Sea:"

If terror was the object of its creation, nothing could be imagined more perfect than the devil-fish. This frightful apparition, which is always possible among the rocks in the open sea, is a grayish form which undulated in the water. It is the thickness of a man's arm, and in length nearly five feet. Its outline is ragged. Its form resembles an umbrella closed, and without handle. This irregular mass advances slowly towards you. Suddenly it opens, and eight radii issue abruptly from around a face with two eyes. These radii are alive; their undulation is like lambent flames; they resemble, when opened, the spokes of a wheel of four or five feet in diameter. A terrible expansion! It springs upon its prey. It winds around the sufferer, covering and entangling him in its long folds. Underneath it is yellow; above, a dull, earthy hue. Nothing could render that inexplicable shade dust colored. Its form is spider like, but its tints are like those of the chameleon. When irritated, it becomes violet. Its most horrible characteristic is its softness. It adheres close to its prey, and cannot be torn away—a fact which is due to its power of exhausting air. The eight antennæ, large at their roots, diminish gradually, and end in needle-like points. Underneath each of these feelers range two rows of pustules, decreasing in size, the largest ones near the head, the smaller at the extremities. Each row contains twenty-five of these. There are, therefore, fifty pustules to each feeler, and the creature possesses, in the whole, four hundred. These pustules are capable of acting like cupping glasses. They are cartilaginous substances, cylindrical, horny and livid. Upon the large species they diminish gradually from the diameter of a five-franc piece to the size of a split pea. These small tubes can be thrust out and withdrawn by the animal at will. They are capable of piercing to a depth of more than an inch. This sucking apparatus has all the regularity and delicacy of a key-board. It stands forth at one moment, and disappears the next. The most perfect sensitiveness cannot equal the contractibility of these suckers, always proportioned to the internal movement of the animal and its exterior circumstances. The monster is endowed with the qualities of the sensitive plant. This animal is the same as those which mariners call Poulps; which science designates Cephaloptera, and which ancient legends call Krakens. It is the English sailors who call them "Devil-fish," and sometimes Blood-suckers.

DISRAELI, THE JEW.—When Dr. Johnson lay dying in Bolt Court, there was left at his door a manuscript poem, with the request that the venerable critic would deign to glance his eye upon it and give judgment concerning its merit. The author, a young Jew, named Isaac Disraeli, only son of a rich merchant, who came from Venice to London in 1745, had been taken out of the University of Amsterdam, and informed that a vacant stool was waiting for him in his father's counting room; but the stripling had replied that he could not on any account think of accepting the said stool, and for this precious reason he had written and was about to print a long poem against commerce, which he assailed without gloves as the great corrupter of mankind. The poem, which of course came too late for Dr. Johnson to see, was soon published. It did not happen to annihilate commerce; but it procured for its author the friendship of Pye, afterwards poet laureate, who succeeded in persuading the old merchant to let Isaac stop among his books. And thus it was that for the next half century the world saw the growth of the most elaborate and stupendous book-worm that ever lived; and thus it was that we all got the inheritance of those most delicious of gossiping tomes, the Curiosities of Literature, the Calamities of Authors, the Quarrels of Authors, and the Amenities of Literature. And here in Bloomsbury Square—but a few steps from where I write these words—was born unto this glorious book-worm an only son, who, against almost every conceivable disadvantage of position, against the deep, immitigable antagonism of Gentile prejudice, has pushed his way by sheer force of brain to be the leader of the aristocratic party in the British House of Commons, the Right Hon. Benjamin Disraeli, Her Majesty's Privy Councellor, and for the third time Chancellor of the Exchequer.—New York Independent.

A GAME OF "POKER" IN CALIFORNIA.—Four persons had seated themselves in the mines to play a game of poker—the auto, as a substitute for money, being a handful of gold dust. They continued playing for some time without either winning much. At length one of the party, who had a good hand, went a handful better.

"I see that, and go a pinch better," cried another, who also had a strong hand.

"I see that," responded the first, "and go a quart better!"

"Well, I see that, and go a gallon better!" said the other.

This rather disconcerted his adversary for a moment, as it "oversized his pile." But confident of the superior strength of his hand, he collected all the gold dust he had left, and pushing it aside, coolly remarked to one of his companions:

"Here, Jim, watch my pile until I go out and dig enough to call him!"

QUEEN VICTORIA HAS A SUITOR.—Soon after the death of Prince Albert, the Emperor Theodorus of Abyssinia, hearing of that melancholy event, and moved probably by sympathy for the unfortunate widow, sent to Queen Victoria a formal proposal of marriage. The offer was treated with silent contempt. His sable majesty, after waiting some time, came to the conclusion that he was intentionally insulted, and, out of revenge, seized the principal Englishmen then in his dominions. By the latest accounts there is reason to fear that all the prisoners, as well as an envoy sent out to their succor, have been put to death.

An old soldier who served under Napoleon during many of his campaigns, now resides in Chelsea, Maine. He is a full blooded German, was born in 1778, and when twenty-six years of age was conscripted, and participated in the battles of Austerlitz and Jena. He then served four years in Spain, was captured, and after serving two years in the British army, deserted while in British America, and settled down to a farmer's life in Chelsea, where he now resides. His health is good, and he bids fair to become a centenarian.

The iron crown of Lombardy is composed of a broad circle of gold, set with large rubies, emeralds and sapphires, on a ground of blue and gold enamel. It derives its name from a narrow rim or band of iron three-eighths of an inch broad and one-tenth of an inch in thickness attached to the inner circumference of the circle. The inner band of sacred iron is believed to be made of one of the nails used at the crucifixion.

England has now 135,000 Volunteer infantry, 27,000 Volunteer Artillery, 4,600 Volunteer Engineers, and a small contingent of Volunteer Cavalry, all well organized, well equipped, well armed and singularly skilled in the use of their weapons.

MASSACHUSETTS WAR RECORD.—The number of men called for by the President during the war was 2,942,748, the quota of Massachusetts being 130,096, though she furnished 158,380.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE

WEEKLY REVIEW.

PORTLAND, FRIDAY, 2 P. M., Jan. 4, 1867.

Up to 2 o'clock, P. M. Friday, we have no later Eastern gold quotations than those of the 10th December, though it is stated upon the street that parties in the city have intelligence of a further decline in gold in New York. The figures for gold are not given, but as high as 72 to 73 cents has been offered for legal tender notes. The market is unsettled, most parties being entirely in the dark as to the state of the money market either in San Francisco or New York. The reticence of the telegraph on that subject is cause for very just complaint among business men.

Since our last report, the Oriflamme took away 7,080 boxes apples and 2,080 quarter sacks flour, that being the principal bulk of her cargo. The Fideliter took away, this morning, the following, mostly for New Westminster: 2,140 qr sacks flour, 100 pkgs butter, 80 pkgs lard, 353 sks middlings, 357 sks bran, 30 boxes apples, 18 hf bbls dried apples, 127 pkgs hams and bacon, 76 sks wheat, 20 pkgs mdse.

In all departments of our trade there is a more marked quietness. Sales during the week have been light and only in answer to the demands of the small retail trade in the interior. Leading brands of flour—say Imperial, Standard and Salem Mills—have dropped from $6 to $5 50, and country brands from $5 to $4 75@$5. Lard is quite unsettled, the figures varying from 12½c to 16c as extremes. A small sale was effected yesterday at the latter figure, but it is higher by 2 to 3c, than most dealers are willing to pay. There is a temporary strong demand for nails in consequence of a scarcity which will probably be soon supplied by arrivals from New York. Bacon and hams remain at about the same figures.

Our latest advices from San Francisco report the produce market quite full and prices rather weak, so that there is little prospect of any immediate improvement in ours.

DR. G. W. BROWN

HAS located in Portland, in CARTER'S NEW BUILDING, for the permanent cure of all private diseases, such as syphilis, gonorrhea, gleet, strictures &c. He also calls the attention of those suffering with to call at his office and be at once restored. Surgical operations SKILFULLY performed on the EYES for film, cataract, strabismus or cross eyes.

Below are some of the many testimonials:

This is to certify that I, John B. Jodwan, was blind for over nine years, and I tried all means of a cure, and many doctors, and all of no effect, and I spent all the means I had. Finally, I had to become a county charge, and when I was taken to Dr. G. W. Brown, and stated my case to him, and misfortune, he at once commenced to treat my eyes, and now I am well, and commend all those that are suffering with diseases of the eyes to call on Dr. G. W. Brown. The reason why I do this is to let suffering humanity know where they can be cured. J. B. JODWAN.

STATE OF OREGON, Marion County, ss.—Subscribed and sworn to before me this 22d day of November, 1866.

SATURDAY, Feb. 10, 1866.

This is to certify that my daughter was almost blind for over seven years, and was doctored by other physicians without obtaining any relief, when finally I took her to Dr. G. W. Brown, who examined her case, and at once began to give her treatment, and her sight has been entirely restored. I do this to let those who are suffering with diseases of the eyes know where they can obtain a cure. It has been three years since her eyes were cured, and they are yet sound.

THOMAS LIVINGSTON,
Deer Creek Precinct, Douglas county, Oregon.

SALEM, July 21, 1866.

This is to certify that I was blind for over four months, and almost blind for one year and a half; I tried several eye doctors but received no benefit; I had almost given my case up as hopeless when fortunately I heard of Dr. G. W. Brown, now of Salem. I was induced to try him; he performed a surgical operation on my eyes, and gave me treatment; I soon began to recover, and in a short time I was perfectly cured. I do this in justice to one who rescued me from a fate worse than death, and also for the benefit of those who are laboring under similar afflictions that they may know where they can get relief. It is now about eight months since my eyes were cured and they still remain good. I can see to read the finest print without difficulty, and my eyes can bear the strongest light without pain.

To Soldiers Claiming Bounties

UNDER THE

EQUALIZATION BOUNTY BILL!

THE UNDERSIGNED, HAVING RECENTLY RETURNED from Washington City, where he has made the proper arrangements for the collections of the Extra Bounty of $100 allowed to all soldiers enlisted after the 19th day of April, 1861, for a period of not less than three years, and $50 for soldiers enlisted for a period of not less than two years.

Persons entitled to the benefits of said Bounty will find it to their interest to attend to its collection at once. Having an Agent at Washington, and personal knowledge of the mode of making collections through the Departments, I can get returns promptly.

☞ Call with your Discharge, and two witnesses for identification, at the Publication Office of the Daily Oregonian, No. 5 Washington St., Portland.

A. BUSHWILER, Claim Agent.

RULES AND REGULATIONS FOR THE PAYMENT OF BOUNTIES, UNDER THE ACT TO EQUALIZE BOUNTIES, APPROVED JULY 28, 1866.

WAR DEPARTMENT, ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE, WASHINGTON, September 10, 1866.

1. All applications shall be filed within the period of six months, from the 1st day of October, 1866, and before any payments are made, shall be classified by regiments, battalions, or other separate organizations, and no application filed after that period shall be settled until after the former shall have been paid.

2. No application shall be entertained unless accompanied by the original discharge of the soldier and the affidavit required by the fourteenth section of the Act, and the further affidavit that he has not received, nor is he entitled to receive from the United States, under any laws or regulations prior to the Act of July 28, 1866, more than $100 bounty for any and all military service rendered by him during the late rebellion, over and above the amount therein claimed.

3. All applications for the additional bounty authorized by this Act from surviving soldiers shall be in the form hereinafter prescribed, and the evidence of identity shall be the same as is now required, and applications from the heirs of deceased soldiers shall be in the form now required by the Treasury Department.

4. As soon as the examination of the claims of any regiment, or other independent organization, shall have been properly acted upon the Paymaster General shall take the necessary steps for their prompt payment.

5. A register shall be kept in the Paymaster General's office, and also in the office of the Second Auditor, of all claims presented under the Law, in which the claimants will be classified by regiments, etc. If the claims be allowed, the amount of bounty paid to each will be noted, and if rejected the cause of rejection will be distinctly stated.

6. In the applications for bounty, as required by the third of these rules, the affidavit shall state each and every period of service rendered by the claimant, and also that he never served otherwise than as herein stated.

7. Organizations irregularly in the service of the United States, or called out for special purposes, as State Militia, Home Guards, etc., and not included in the general bounty laws, are not included within the meaning of the Act.

8. Soldiers enlisted for "three years or during the war," who were discharged by reason of the termination of the war, shall be considered as having served out the period of their enlistment, and are entitled to bounty under this Act.

9. The minority of heirs, claimants for bounty under this Act, must be proven to have existed at the date of its passage. Parents shall receive jointly the bounty to which they may be entitled as heirs, unless the father has abandoned the support of his family, in which case it shall be paid to the mother. Non-residence in the United States shall not be a bar to the claim of heirs, who would otherwise legally inherit.

The provisions of the Act exclude from its benefits the following classes:

1. Those who, after serving the full period of their enlistment, were dishonorably discharged at its expiration.

2. Those discharged during enlistment by way of favor or punishment.

3. Those discharged on account of disability contracted in the service, but not occasioned by wounds received "in the line of duty," who shall not have previously served two or three years respectively at the time of discharge.

4. Those discharged on account of disability existing at the time of their enlistment.

5. The heirs of those who have died since their discharge of wounds or disease not contracted in the service and in the line of duty.

6. The surviving soldiers and heirs of deceased soldiers who, under previous laws, have received or are entitled to receive a bounty of more than $100 from the United States.

7. The surviving soldiers, as well as the heirs of deceased soldiers, when such soldiers have bartered, sold, assigned, loaned, transferred, exchanged or given away their final discharge papers, or any interest in the bounty provided by this or any other Act of Congress.

8. The Act of the 28th of July, 1866, creates no right of inheritance beyond those vested by the law under which these heirs received or were entitled to receive the original bounty, and debars certain classes, brothers and sisters of heirs that were entitled to receive the original bounty, from any claim for the additional bounty provided by this Act.

Respectfully referred to the Attorney General for his opinion on the point whether the rules and regulations as within amended are in conformity with law.

EDWIN M. STANTON,
September 14, 1866. Secretary of War.

I have examined these amended regulations, and am of opinion they are in conformity with law.

making less than two-fifths of the real amount said Mayer was to pay. He had secured the building at very advantageous rates, and even were he now to comply with his contract, and pay in Coin, would be getting the best bargain in the city. I make this statement to show the public what kind of a man he must be to Medical.

TO THE UNFORTUNATE.
NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES
Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,

617 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established in 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhea, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences, or from virus absorbed into the system; look at their pallid, emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends, attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible life-destroying maladies, see that they are cared for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon, a physician who has made private disease his especial study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of these charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self-abuse. This solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence, is practised by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing, with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures, viz: Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, a disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes; pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, feted breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequent insanity. If relief be not obtained, should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible, and will give to each patient a written instrument, binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Doctor Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions for use, for Ten Dollars, sent in registered letter or through Wells, Fargo & Co.

Address DR. J. F. GIBBON, 616 Kearney street, corner Commercial, San Francisco. Post Office Box 252.
